

October 10, 2018

I, [REDACTED], deem [REDACTED], the German Shepard who lives at [REDACTED], to be a vicious dog, I'm requesting on October 10th, 2018, for a vicious dog order to be put on this dog. My reasoning is from the event/attack that occurred on October 9th, 2018.

The event/attack

Approximately 3:00pm October 9th, 2018, I [REDACTED], born [REDACTED], was cleaning and vacuuming my car outside in my driveway. I had my dog [REDACTED] with me tied with a harness and rope so as not to go off our property. As I'm cleaning my car, the German Shepard [REDACTED] was growling and barking inside the dog's home the entire time I was outside. My thought was to put my dog in the house, as I didn't feel he was safe outside, just because of the noise [REDACTED] was making. Once I put my dog [REDACTED] (10 1/2 year old poodle, male, neutered) in the house, I returned to my car to continue cleaning. Approximately 10 minutes went by, when I decided to get a drink of water from inside my house. I walked from my car to my front door when half way to my door, I heard a person yelling, "[REDACTED] no, come here!" I immediately turned my head to the right and saw [REDACTED] come around the corner of my house. [REDACTED] locked eyes with mine at that moment, I saw [REDACTED]'s teeth and gums coming at me. I ran as fast as I could to my front door. [REDACTED] jumped on my back, both paws around my shoulders and neck area from behind, and she tried to bite my neck. I was pinned to my front door with the weight of [REDACTED] pushing against me and the door. So that [REDACTED] wouldn't take a bit out of my neck, I swung my right arm and shoulder backwards to get [REDACTED] off of me. Once [REDACTED] landed on all fours, she started to dig her teeth into my buttocks. I was paralyzed with fear. At that moment, [REDACTED]. The pain I was enduring from [REDACTED] biting my buttocks was getting severe, so I knew if I opened my front door, that my 12 pound miniature poodle [REDACTED], was going to be injured, as he was crying on the other side of the door, because [REDACTED] watched through the front window [REDACTED] attacking me. Because of my terrified state of mind, I had no choice but to turn the doorknob. The second I heard the doorknob click open, [REDACTED] jumped on me once again, and pushes me into the house, in my entrance and I landed on my hands and knees. Immediately [REDACTED] grabbed my dog [REDACTED] into it's mouth and started chewing on [REDACTED]'s body. I was now on all fours, trying to grab my dog out of [REDACTED]'s mouth, but I could not. By this time, the owners [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] tried to get [REDACTED] out of my house. There was no leach to grab onto, so they both grabbed [REDACTED]'s fur and tried to pull [REDACTED] out and off my [REDACTED]. All [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] managed to do was pull grapefruit size balls of fur in their hands. So both Jennifer and her daughter continued their efforts to get Adi off Casey and out of my house by pulling on her fur with no results. During this time, [REDACTED] continued mauling my dog [REDACTED]. I got up on my knees, tried to punch [REDACTED] in the face to get [REDACTED] out of [REDACTED]'s mouth. I'm not positive that action was why [REDACTED] finely let go of [REDACTED], or from [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] screaming and pulling on [REDACTED]. The moment [REDACTED] let go, I jumped up on my feet shoved all three of them through my front door out of my house, and told them to, "get the fuck out of my house!!" and slammed my front door shut. I then started screaming, crying, in shock, trying to find my dog [REDACTED], who by that time was upstairs in my bedroom, huddled in a corner whimpering. Because [REDACTED] has black hair, I could not see major wounds on him at that time. So I left [REDACTED] in my bedroom, went back downstairs to call one of my [REDACTED] to tell [REDACTED] what had just happened in hopes that [REDACTED] would be able to calm me down, as I was hyperventilating. While on the phone, [REDACTED]'s owner, knocked at my door. First thing she said to me was, "who are you talking to?"

I found that very disturbing because [REDACTED] said it with a loud voice. I told [REDACTED] it was talking to my [REDACTED] on the phone, then [REDACTED] apologized to me for what happened. At that time, [REDACTED] said [REDACTED] was putting [REDACTED] dog [REDACTED] down, which I haven't said anything yet, so that comment was [REDACTED]'s thoughts. [REDACTED] looked at my wounds, apologized once again, then left my house.

10 minutes later, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] knocked on my door and I let them in because the [REDACTED] wanted to apologize to me as well. At that same moment, [REDACTED] said, "oh by the way, my [REDACTED] who lives 5 hours away will come and get [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] also asked me to not call any authorities because [REDACTED] said [REDACTED] would lose [REDACTED] job. Once again, I haven't said a thing about the dog [REDACTED], because I was crying and shaking, so what ever [REDACTED] was saying was not my priority at that moment. I wanted to call animal control, that's all I was thinking to do to feel safe. So both [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] left my house again. I immediately called 'animal control' and the health unit, and explained that I was viciously attacked by a German Shepard that lives next door to me. I then called the animal hospital where my vet works to make an appointment ASAP for [REDACTED].

Two officers, Gerald Sagle and Grant Dokis arrived at at my home, [REDACTED] at 5:00pm that same day, October 9th, 2018. I told the two officers every detail of the attack from what I could remember, which was still extremely clear in my mind. Officer Gerald took my statement. When the officers first knocked on my door, was when [REDACTED], my dog, came out of the bedroom and came to the front door. I picked [REDACTED] up and that's when [REDACTED] yelped in pain, in front of the officers. Then I noticed blood all over my hands from [REDACTED]'s body. That moment was very upsetting, as I didn't know the extent of his injuries prior to then.

Injuries:

[REDACTED] has bit my buttocks right through my pants into the skin, so I can see two bloody puncture wounds. My wounds are black and blue and bloody.

I also have [REDACTED]'s claw marks all down my back. They are not bloody, just welts and very red.

[REDACTED]'s wounds are terrible as well. He has a gaping hole in his left side of his body, approximately 1/2 inch in diameter close to his armpit. I tried to stop the bleeding by filling the hole with polystyrene to stop the bleeding with no success. So I have an appointment at 2:30pm for October 10th, 2018.
